wont to sue in the kings court, to recouer their presentments to churches, prebēds, and other benefices of holie church, to the which they haue right to present: the cognisance of plea of which presentment belongeth onely to the kings Courte of the ancient right of his own crown vsed & approued in ỹ time of his progenitors kings of Englande: And when iudgement hath bin giuen in the same court vpō such plea & presentmēt, the Archbishops, Bishops, and other Spiritual persons which haue the institution of such benefices within their iurisdictions, be bound & haue made execution of such iudgements by ỹ kings commaundements all the time aforesaid, without interruption, (for a laye person may not make such execution) & also bee bound of right to make execution of many other the kings commaundements, of which right the crowne of England hath bene peaceably seysed aswel in the time of our said soueraign lord the king that now is, as in the time of al his progenitors til this day: But now of late, diuers processes bee made by the Bishop of Rome, and censures of excommunication, vpon certaine Bishops of Englande, because that they haue made execution of such cōmandements, to the open disherison of the said crowne, and destruction of the Regalty of our said soueraigne lord the king, his law and all his realme, if remedy be not prouided: And also it is said, & a common clamor made, that the saide Bishop of Rome hath ordained and purposed to translate some Prelates of the same Realme, some of them out of the realme, & some from one Bishoprike to another within the same realm, without the kings assent & knowledge, and without the assent of the Prelates which so shall bee translated, which Prelates be much profitable and necessarie to our said soueraigne Lord the King, and to all his realme: by which translations (if they were suffered) the Statutes should bee defeated & auoyded, & his wise liege men of his Counsel, without his assent, and against his will withdrawen & gotten out of his Realme, & the substance and Treasure of the realme borne away, and so the realme destitute aswel of counsell as of substance, to the finall destructiō of the same Realme, And so the crowne of Englande, which hath beene so frée at all times, that it hath ben in subiection to no Realme, but immediatly subiect to God and to none other, in all things touching the regalitie of the same crowne, should be submitted to the bishop of Rome, and the Lawes and statutes of the realme by him defeated and frustrated at his wil, to the perpetuall destruction of the king our said Soueraigne Lord, his soueraignitie, his Crowne and regaltie, and of all his realm, which God defend. And moreouer the commons aforesaid haue said that the things so attempted, bee clérely against the kings Crowne & his regalty, vsed and approued in the time of all his progenitors: Wherefore they & all the liege commons of the same realme will stand with our said soueraigne Lorde the king, & his said crowne, & his regality in the cases aforesaide, & in all other cases attempted against him, his Crowne, & his regalitie in all poynts, to liue & to die. And moreouer they haue prayed the king, and him required by waye of iustice, that hee would examine all the Lords in the Parliament, aswel Spiritual as Temporal seuerally, & al the statutes of parliament, how they thinke of the cases aforesaid, which bee so openlie against the kings crowne, and in derogation of his regality, and howe they wil stand in the same cases with our Soueraigne Lord the king, in vpholding the rights of the said Crowne and regalitie. Whereupon the Lordes Temporal so demanded, haue answered euery one by him selfe, that the cases aforesaid be clearely in derogation of the kings Crowne, & of his regality, as it is wel knowen, & hath bene of a long time knowen, and that they will stand with the same Crowne & regalitie in these cases specially, & in all other cases which shal be attempted against the same crown & regality in al points with al their power. And moreouer it was demanded of the lords spirituall there being, & the procurators of othēr being ablēt, their aduice & wil in al these cases, which lords, that is to saye, the Archbishops, Bishops, & other prelates, being in the parliamēt seuerally examined, making protestatiōs, that it is not their minde to deny or affirme, that ỹ Bishop of Rome may not excommunicat bishops, nor that he may make translatiō of prelates, after the Law of holy church. answered & said, that if any executions of processes made in the K. court (as before) be made by any, & Censures of excommunication bee made against any Bishop of England, or any other ỹ kings liege people, for that that they haue made executiō of such commandements: And that if anie

And likewise ỳ same procurators euery one by himself examined vpon the said matters, haue answered & said in the name, & for their Lordes, as the said Bishops haue said and answered, and that the said Lordes spirituall will & ought to stand with the king in these cases lawfully in mainteining of his Crowne, & in all other cases touching his crowne, & his regalty as they be bound by their legiance. ¶ Recognisance and Statute merchant.

EVerie Merchant which will be sure of his debt, shal cause his debtor to come before the Maior of London, or of Yorke, or Bristow, or before the Maior & Clerke (which the king shall appoint for ỹ same) for to knowledge the debt, and day of paiment, and the recognisance shalbe entred into a roll with the hand of the said Clerke, which shalbe knowen. Moreouer the said Clerke shall make with his owne hand a bil obligatorie, wherunto the seale of the debtor shall be put, with the kings seale, that shall bee prouided for the same purpose, the which seale shall remaine in the keeping of the Maior & Clerke aforesaid. And if the debtor do not pay at the day to him limited, the creditor shal come before the said Maior and clerke with his bil obligatorie: And if it be found by the roll & by the bill that the debt was knowledged & that the day of paiment is expired, the Maior shal incontinent cause the moueables of the debtor to be sold as farre as the debt doth amount, at the praising of honest men, after ỹ maner of borough gods deuiseable, vntill the whole summe of the debt & the money be fully paid to the creditor: and if the Maior can find no buier, he shal cause the moueables to be deliuered to the creditor at a reasonable price, as much as doth amount to the sum of the debt, & the kings seale shalbe put vnto the sale and deliuerance of the gods deuiseable for a perpetuall witnes. And if the debtor haue no moueables within the iurisdiction of the Maior, whereupon ỹ debt may bee leuied, but peraduenture hath some other where, within the realme, the shall the Maior returne the recognisance made before him & the clerke aforesaid vnto the Chancelor vnder the kinges seale, and the Chancelor shal direct a writt vnto the Shirife, in whose Bailliwike that the moueables of the debtor hap to be, and the Shirife shall cause him to agree with his creditor in such form as the Maior should haue done in case that the moueables of the debtor had bẽne within his power. And let them that haue prised the moueable gods to be deliuered vnto the creditor, take good heede, that they do set a reasonable price vpon them, for if they doe set

2 ¶ Forasmuch as marchants, which heretofore haue lent their goods to diuers persons, be nowe fallen in pouertie, because there is no spẽdie remedy prouided, whereby they may shortly recouer their debt at the day of paiment assessed: And for this mischiefe many merchants are loth to come into the realme with their merchandise, to the great damage of such merchants, and of all the realme: The king and his Counsel, at his Parliament holden at Acton Burnel, after the feast of S. Michael the 11. yere of his raigne hath ordained these establishments thereupon for the remedie of such merchants, which ordinances and establishments, the king commandeth that they shalbe firmly kept & obserued throughout his realme, whereby merchants may haue remedie & lesse trouble & busines to recouer their debts then they haue had heretofore. But for as much as merchants afterward complained vnto the king, that shirifes misinterpreted his statutes, & sometime by malice and false interpretation, delaied the execution of the statute, to the great damage of merchants: The king at his Parliament holden at Westminster after Easter, the thirtenth yere of his raign, caused the said statute made at Acton Burnel to be rehearsed. And for the declaration of certaine articles in the statute aforesaid, hath ordained and established, that a merchant for the assurance of his debt, shall cause his debtor to come before the Maior of London, or before some chiefe Warden of the Citie, or of another good towne where the king shall appoint, and before the Maior, chiefe Warden, or other sufficient men chosen and sworne thereto, when the Maior or chiefe Warden cannot attend thereto, and before one of the Clerks that the king shal therto assigne, when both cannot be attendant, hee shall knowledge the debt and the date of payment, & the recognisance shall be inrolled by one of the Clerks hands being knowen, and the rol shalbe double, whereof one part shal remaine with the Maior or chief Warden, and the other with the Clerkes that therto shall be first named. And further one of the said Clerks with his own hand shal write an obligation, wherupon the seale of the debtor shall be put, with the kings seale prouided for the same intent, which seale shall be of two pieces, whereof the greater piece shall remaine with the Maior or the chiefe Warden, & the other in the keping of the foresayde Clerks. And if the debtor doe not pay the debt at the day limitted vnto him, thẽ shal the marchant come before the Maior and clerke with his obligation, & if it be found by a roll or writing, that the debt was knowledged and the day of payment expired, the Maior or chiefe Warden shall cause the body of the debtor to be taken (if he be lay) whensoeuer he happeneth to come in their power, and shal commit him to the prison of the Towne, if there be any, and shall remayne there at his owne costes,

And if the debtor cannot be found by the Maior or chiefe Warden, then shal they or any of them returne into the Chancerie vnder the kings seale, ẏ recognisance of the debt: and the chancelour shall direct a writ vnto the shirife, in whose shire the debtor happeneth to bee, for to take his body (if he be lay) & safely to keepe him in prison, vntill he hath agreed for the debt.

And within a quarter of a yere after that he is taken, his lands shal be deliuered him, so that by the profits he may leuie & pay the debts. And it shall be lawfull vnto him during ẏ same quarter, to sell his lands & tenements, for the discharge of his debts, & his sale shall be good and effectual. And if he do not agree within the quarter nexte after the quarter expired, al the lands and goods of the debtor shalbe deliuered vnto the Merchant by a reasonable extent, to hold them vntil such time as the debt is wholly leuied: And neuertheles the bodie shal remain in prison, as before is said. And ẏ merchant shal find him bread and water, & the merchant shal haue such seison in the lands & tenements deliuered vnto him, that he may maintain a writ of nouel disseisin, if hee be put out, & redisseisin also, as of freeholde, to hold to him & his assignes vntill the debt be paid. And as sone as the debt is leuied, the body of the debtor shalbe deliuered with his lands. And if the shirifes doe not returne the writ, or doe returne that the Writte came too late, or that they haue directed it to the Bailife of some franchise, the Justices shall doe as it is contained in the Statute of Westminster. And, if the shirife returne that the debtor cannot be founde, or that hee be clerke, the merchant shall haue writs to all the shirifes, or hee shall haue the land, & that they shal deliuer all the goods & lands of the debtor by a reasonable extent, to hold vnto him and his assignes in the form aforesaid, & at the least he shal haue a writ to what shirife that he will, to take his bodie (if he be lay) & to retaine it in maner aforesaid, & the keeper of the prison ought to take heed ẏ he must answere for the bodie or for the debt. And after that the debtors lands be deliuered to the merchant, the debtor may lawfully sell his land, for that the merchant haue no damage of the appruements, and the merchants shall alwaies bee allowed for their damages, & al costs, labours, suites, delaies & expences reasonable. And if the debtor finde sureties after the day passed, the sureties shalbe ordered in al things as is said of the principal debtor, as to the arrest of bodie, deliuery of lands, and other things. And also another seale shalbe prouided, that shall serue for faires, and the same shalbe sent vnto euerie faire vnder the kings seale by a clerke sworne, or by ẏ keeper of the faire. Countie Courts

2 ¶ Forasmuch as the Lords of fées distreining their tenants for seruices and customes due vnto them, are many times grieued, because their tenants do repleuie the distresse by writ or without writ. And when the Lords at the complaint of their tenants, do come by attachment into the countie, or vnto another Court, hauing power to holde pleas of Withernam and do auow the taking good and lawfull: by reason that the tenants disauow & do disclame to holde ought of him (which tooke the distresse) and auowed it, hee that distreined is amerced, and the tenants goe quit to whome punishment cannot be assigned for such disauowing by record of ỳ countie, or of other courts hauing no record. It is prouided and ordeined from henceforth, that where such lords cannot obteine iustice in counties, & such manner of courts, against their tenants, assone as they shalbe attached at the sute of their tenants, a writ shal bee granted to them, to remoue the matter before the Iusticers, afore whom and none other where, iustice may be ministred to such Lords. And the cause shalbee put in the writ, because such a man destreined in his fee for seruice and customes to him due. Neither is this acte preiudiciall to the lawe commonly vsed, whereby it is prohibited, that no plée shal bee moued before Iusticers at the sute of the defendant: For though it appeare at the first face that the tenant is plaintife, & the lord defendant: Neuertheles, hauing respect to that, that the Lord hath distreined and sueth for seruices and customes being behinde, he appeareth indéd to bee rather plaintife then defendant. And to the intent the Iustices may knowe what fresh seisin the Lordes may aduow the distresse good & lawfull vpon their tenants: From henceforth it is agréed and enacted that a reasonable distres may be aduowed vpō the seisin of any ancestor or predecessor, since the time that a writte of Nouel disseisin hath runne. And because it chanceth many times that the tenaunt after that he hath repleuied his beasts, doth sel or alien them, wherby returne cannot bee made vnto the lord that distreined, if it be adiudged:

It is prouided, that Shirifes or Bailifs from henceforth, shall not only receiue of the plaintifes pledges for the sute, before they make deliuerance of the distres, but also for the returne of ỳ beasts, if returne bee awarded. And if any take pledges otherwise, he shall answere for the price of the beastes, and the lorde that distreineth shall haue his recouerie by writ, that hee shall restore vnto him so many beasts or cattell: And the Bailife be not able to restore, his lord shal restore. And forasmuch as it happeneth sometime, that after the returne of the beasts is awarded vnto the distreiner, and the partie so distreined, after that ỳ beasts bee returned, doth repleuie them againe, and when he séeth the distreiner appearing in ỳ court ready to answere him, doth make default, wherby returne of the beasts ought to be awarded againe vnto the distreiner, and so the beasts bee repleuied twise or thrise, & infinitelie, and the iudgements giuen in the Kings court take no effect in this case, whereupon no remedy hath bene yet prouided: In this case such proces shalbe awarded, that so sone as returne of the beasts shall be awarded to the distreiner, the shirife shalbe cōmanded by a iudiciall writ to make returne of the beasts vnto the distreiner, in which writ it shalbe expressed, ỳ the shirife mentioned, that the al & singuler persons so damnified, & hurt, shall recouer & haue damages with the costs of their suite sustained in that behalf trebled, against the offenders therin. And forasmuch as such euil disposed persons, which of late time made commotions and rebellion in certaine places within this Realme, being but few in number, at such time as they did begin the same commotion, were not in short time after the beginning thereof suppressed by strength, for that the louing subiects at that time, for feare to incurre in danger of the Lawes of this Realme, durst not take vpon them so to do, a great number of euil disposed persons did come, and ioine themselues to the saide small number, whereby the same euill disposed persons tooke vpon them such boldenes, that they would not be reduced to obedience without much bloodshedding, to the great danger of the person of the Prince, where if the said Subiects durst haue taken vpon them to haue suppressed them at the beginning, such inconuenience and bloodshed should not haue followed.

2 ¶ For asmuch as from day to day robberies, murders, and burning of houses, be more often vsed then they haue bin heretofore, and Felons cannot be attainted by the othe of Iurours, which had rather suffer felonies done to strangers to passe without paine, then to indict the offenders, of whome a great part be folke of the same Countrey, or at the least if the offenders bee of another Countrey, the receiuers be of places nere. And they do the same, because the othe is not now put vnto Iurors, nor vpon the Countrey where such felonies were done, as to the restitution of damages hitherto no paine hath bene limitted for their concealement and latches: Our lorde the King, for to abate the power of Felons, hath established a paine in this case, so that from henceforth, for feare of the paine more then for feare of any othe, they shall not spare any, nor conceale any felonies. And commaundeth that proclamation be solemnely made in all Counties, Hundreds, Markets, Faires, and al other places, where great resort of people is, so that none shall excuse themselues by ignorance, that from henceforth euery countrey be so well kept, that immediatly vpon robberies and felonies committed, such fresh sute bee made from towne to towne, and from countrey to countrey. Likewise, when neede require, that Inquests bee made in townes by him that is Lorde of the towne, and after in the hundred, and after in the franchise, and in the countie, and sometime in two, three, or foure counties, in case where felonies bee committed in the marches of shires, so that the trespassers may bee attainted. And if the countrey doe not aunswere for such maner of misdoers, the paine shalbe such, that the countrey, that is to wit, the people dwelling in the countrey shal answere for the robberies done, and also for the damages, so that the whole hundred, where the robberie happeneth to be done with the franchises, being within the precinct of the same hundred shall answer for the robberies done. And if the robberie chance to be done in ỳ diuision of two hundreds, in such case both hundreds together with the franchises, shal answere it. And after that the felonie or robberie is done, the countrey shall haue no longer space then xl. daies, within which it shal behoue them to agree for the robbery & trespasse, or else that they aunswer for the bodies of the offenders. And forasmuch as the king wil not that his people should be suddenly put in feare of this penaltie, that seemeth very hard to many, ỳ king granteth that they shall not incurre it immediatly, but it shalbe respited vntill ỳ Easter next following, & within that time the king shall see how the Countrey will order themselues, & whether such felonies & robberies do cease. After which terme let al be assured, that the foresaid penaltie shall runne generally, that is to wit, that euery cõtrey, that is to say, the people of the countrey shal aunswere for the felonies & robberies done among them.

6 ¶ Whereas by two ancient statuts, the one made in the Parliament holden at Winchester, in the xiii. yeere of the raigne of king Edward the first, & the other in the xxviii. yere of ỳ raigne of king Edward the thirde, it was for the better repressing of robberies and felonies (amõgst other things) enacted to this effect, That if the countrey doe not answere for the bodies of such malefactours, that then the paine should bee such, that is to wit, that the people dwelling in the country, shalbe answerable for the robberies done, & the damages: so that the whole hundred where the robberie shalbe done, with the franchises which are within the precinct of the same hundred, shal answer the robberies done. And if the robberie chaunce to be done in ỳ diuision of two hundreds, that then both the hundreds together, with the franchises within the precinct of them, shalbe answerable, as in the said two seueral statutes it doth more at large appeare. Forasmuch as the saide partes of the saide seuerall statutes being of late dayes more commonly put in execution then heretofore they haue been, are found by experience to be very hard & extreme to many of the Quenes Maiesties good subiects, because by the same statuts they doe remaine charged with the penalties therin contained, notwithstanding their vnabilitie to satisfie the same, and though they do as much as in reason might be required in pursuing such malefactors and offenders, wherby both large scope of negligence is giuen to the inhabitants and resiants in other hundreds & counties, not to prosecute the hue & cry made, followed & brought vnto them, by reason they are not chargeable for any portion of ỳ goods robbed, nor with any damages in that behalfe giuen, & also great incouragement and imboldening is likewise giuen vnto the offenders to commit dayly more felonies and robberies, as seeing it in maner impossible for the inhabitants & resiants of the said hundred and franchises wherin the robberie is committed, to apprehend them without the ayde of the other hundreds and Counties adioyning, and for that also that the party robbed hauing remedie by the aforesaid statutes for the recouering of his goods robbed, and damages against the inhabitants and resiants of the hundred wherein the robbery was committed, is many times negligent and careless in prosecuting and pursuing the saide malefactors and offenders: Our soueraigne Lady the Queenes Maiestie, not willing therefore that her people should be impouerished by any such paine or penaltie, which should be hard or grieuous to them, and hauing special regarde to abate the power of felons, and to represse felonies, doeth for remedie hereof, with the consent of the Lordes Spirituall and Temporall, and of the Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authoritie of the same Parliament establish and enact, that the inhabitants & resiants of euery or any such hundred, (with the franchises within the precinct thereof) wherein negligence, fault or defect of pursuite, and fresh suite, after hue and cry made, shal happen to be, from and after fourtie dayes next after the ende of this present session of Parliament, shall aunswere and satisfie the one moitie or halfe of all and euery such summe and summes of money and damages, as shall by force or vertue of the saide statutes or either of them be recouered or had, against or of the said hundred, with the franchises therein, in which any robberie or felonie shal at any time hereafter be cõmit-

And that the same moitie shal & may be recouered by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any of ỳ Quæns Maiesties Courts of Record at Westminster, by and in the name of the Clerke of the peace for the time being, of or in euery such Countie within this Realme, where any such robbery and recouery by the partie or parties robbed shal be, without naming the Christian name or surname of the said Clerke of ỳ peace, which moitie so recouered, shall be to the onely vse & behoofe of the inhabitants of the said hundred where any such robbery or felony shalbe committed or done. Clearke of the peace

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that if any Clerke of the peace, of or in any Countie within this Realme, shall at any time hereafter commence or preferre any such sute, action, or information, and shall after the same so sued, commenced or preferred, happen to die, or to be removed out of his office before recouery and execution had: that yet no such action, sute, bill, plaint or information, sued, commenced, or preferred, shall by such displacing or death, be abated, discontinued or ended, but that it shall and may be lawful to and for the clerke of the peace next succeeding in the said Countie, to prosecute, pursue and follow all and euery such action, bill, plaint, sute and information, for the causes aforesaide, so hanging and depẽding in such maner and forme, and to all intentes and purposes, as that Clerke of Peace might haue done which first commenced or preferred the said sute, bill, plaint, or information. And although the whole hundred where such robberies & felonies are committed with the liberties within the precinct thereof, are by the said two former statutes charged with the answering to the party robbed his dammages: yet neuertheless the recouery & execution, by and for the party or parties robbed, is had against one or a very few persons of the said inhabitants, and he and they so charged, haue not heretofore by lawe had anie meane or way to haue any contribution, of or from the residue of the said hũdred where the said robbery is committed, to the great impouerishment of them against whome such recouery or execution is had. For remedy whereof, Bee it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that after executiõ of damages by the party or parties so robbed had, it shall and may be lawfull (vpon complaint made by the party or parties so charged) to and for two Justices of the peace (whereof one to be of the Quorum) of the same countie, inhabiting within the said hũdred, or nere vnto the same where any such execution shalbe had, to assesse, tare ratably & proportionably, according to their discretions al & euery the townes, parishes, villages & hamlets, as wel of the said hundred where any such robbery shal be committed, as of the liberties within the said hundred, to & towardes an equall contribution to be had & made for the releefe of the said inhabitant or inhabitãts, against whome the partie or parties robbed before that time had his or their execution: And that after such taratiõ made, the constables, constable, headborowghes or headborough of euery such towne, parish, billage and hamlet, shal by vertue of this present act haue full power & authoritie within their seuerall limits, ratably & proportionably to tare & assesse according to their abilities, euery inhabitãt & dweller in euery such towne, parish, billage & hamlet, for & towards the paymẽt of such taxation & assessement as shalbe so made, vpon euery such towne, parish, billage & hamlet as aforesaid, by the said Justices: & that if any inhabitant of any such town, parish, billage or hamlet, shal obstinately refuse & deny to pay the said taxation and assessement, so by the said constables, constable, headborowghes or headborough, tared and assessed, that then it shall and may be lawfull to and for the saide Constables and headborowghes, and euery of them within their seuerall limits and iurisdictions, to distreine all and euery person and persons so refusing and denying by his and their goods and chattels, and the same distresse to sell, and the money thereof comming to retaine to the vse aforesaide. And bee it further enacted, that all and euery the said cõstables & headborowghes, after ỳ they haue within their seuerall limits & iurisdictions leuied and collected their said rates and summes of money so tared, shal within x. daies after such collection pay and deliuer the same ouer vnto the said Justices of peace, or one of them; Constables Headborowghes

And be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that the like taxation, assessement, leuying by distresse & paymẽt, as aforesaide, shalbe had & done within euery hundred where default or negligẽce of pursute & fresh sute shalbe, for & to the benefite of all & euery inhabitant and inhabitants of the same hundred, where such default shalbe, that shall at any time hereafter by vertue of this present act, haue any dammages or money leuied of them, for or to the paymẽt of the one moitie or half of the money recouered against the said hundred where any robbery shall be hereafter committed. Prouided also, and be it further enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that where any robberie is, or shalbe hereafter cõmitted by two, or a greater number of malefactours, & that it happen any one of the said offenders to bee apprehended by pursute to be made according to the said former mẽtioned lawes & statutes, or according to this present act, that then & in such case, no hundred or franchise shall in any wise incurre, or fal into the penaltie, losse or forfaiture mẽtioned either in this present act, or in the said former statutes, although ẏ residue of ẏ said malefactors shal happen to escape, & not to be apprehended: any thing in this statut, or in the said former statute to ẏ contrary notwithstanding. Prouided also, that no person or persõs hereafter robbed, shall take any benefite by vertue of any the said former statutes, to charge any hundred where any such robberie shalbe committed, except he or they so robbed, shall cõmence his or their sute or action within one yeare next after such robberie so to be committed. And bee it further also enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliament, that no person or persons that shall hereafter happen to be robbed, shall haue or maintaine any action, or take any benefit by vertue of the saide two mentioned statutes, or either of them, except the saide person and persons so robbed, shall with as much conuenient spẽd as may be, giue notice and intelligence of the saide felony or robbery so committed, vnto some of the inhabitants of some towne, village, or hamlet neere vnto the place where any such robberie shalbe committed, nor shall bring or haue any action, vpon or by vertue of any the statutes aforesaide, except he or they shal first within twentie daies next before such action to bee brought, bee examined vpon his or their corporal othe, to be taken before some one Iustice of the Peace of the Countie where the robbery was committed, inhabiting within the said hundred where the robbery was cõmitted, or neere vnto the same, whether he or they doe knowe the parties that cõmitted the said robbery, or any of them. And if vpon such examination it bee confessed that he or they do know the parties that committed the saide robbery, or any of them, that then he or they so confessing, shall before the saide action be commenced or brought, enter into sufficient bond by recognisance before the saide Iustice, before whome the saide examination is had, effectually to prosecute the same person and persons so knowen to haue committed the saide robbery, by indictment or otherwise, according to the due course of the Lawes of this Realme. And that no manner of person or persons to be named, elected, presented, or postulated to any Archbishoprike or Bishoprike within this Realme, should paye the saide annates or first fruites, nor any other maner of summe or summes of money, pensions, or annuities for the same, or for any other like exaction or cause, vpon paine to forfeit to our soueraigne Lord the king, his heires and successors, al maner his goods and cattels for euer, and all the temporal landes and possessions of the saide Archbishoprike or Bishoprike, during the time that hee or they that should offend cõtrary to the said act, should haue, possesse and inioy the said Archbishoprike or Bishoprike.

Forf.

And it was further enacted, that if any person named or presented to the See of Rome, by the kings highnes, or his heires or successors to bee Bishop of any See or diocesse within this Realme, should happen to be letted, delaied, or deferred at the See of Rome, from any such Bishoprike whereunto hee shall bee so presented, by meane of restreint of Bulles of the saide Bishoppe of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, and other things requisite for the same, or should bee deemed at the see of Rome, vpon conuenient sute for any buls requisite for any such cause, that then euery person so presented, might or should be cõsecrated here in England by the Archbishop, in whose prouince the saide Bishoprike shall be: so alwayes that ỳ same person should be named and presented by the King for the time being, to the sayde Archbishop. And if any person being named and presented as is aforesaide, to any Archbishoprik of this realm, making conuenient sute as is aforesaid, should happe to be letted, delaied, deferred, or otherwise disturbed from the said Archbishoprik, for lacke of pall, bull, or other things to him requisit to be obteined at the see of Rome, that then euery such person so named and presented to bee Archbishop, might and should bee consecrated and inuested after presentation made as is aforesaid, by any other two Bishops within this Realme, whom ỳ kings highnes, or any his heires or successors, kings of Englande, would appoint & assigne for the same, according, & after like maner as diuers archbishops & bishops haue bẽn heretofore in ancient time, by sundry the kings most noble progenitors made, consecrated and inuested within this Realme.

And albeit the ſaid biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, hath bin informed & certified of the effectuall contents of the ſaid act, to the intent ỹ by ſome gentle wayes the ſaid exactions might haue bẽn redreſſed and reformed: yet neuertheles the ſaid biſhop of Rome hitherto, hath made none anſwere of his minde therein to ỹ Kings highnes, nor deuiſed or required any reaſonable wayes to and with our ſaid ſouereigne Lorde for the ſame: wherefore his moſt excellent goodneſſe, for the wealth & profit of this his Realme, & ſubiects of the ſame, hath not onely put his moſt gracious and royall aſſent to the foreſaid acte, but alſo hath ratified and confirmed the ſame, and euery clauſe and article therein conteined, as by his letters patents vnder his great ſeale enrolled in the parliament roll of this preſent Parliament more at large is conteined. And foraſmuch as in the ſaid act it is not plainly and certainely expreſſed, in what maner & faſhion Archbiſhops and biſhops ſhalbe elected, preſented, inueſted and conſecrated within this realme, and in all other the kings dominions: Bee it nowe therefore enacted by the king our ſouereigne lorde, by the aſſent of the lords ſpiritual & temporall, & the commons in this preſent parliament aſſembled, & by authoritie of the ſame, that the ſaid acte, and euery thing therein conteyned, ſhalbe and ſtand in ſtrength, vertue, and effect, except onely that no perſon or perſons hereafter ſhalbe preſented, nominated, or commended to the ſaid biſhop of Rome, otherwiſe called the Pope, or to ỹ ſée of Rome, to or for the dignitie or office of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this Realme, or in any other the kings dominions, nor ſhal ſend nor procure therefore anie maner of Bulles, brieues, palles, or other things requiſite for an Archbiſhop or biſhop, nor ſhal pay any ſums of money for annates, firſt fruites, or otherwiſe for expeditiõ of any ſuch buls, brieues, or palles, but that by the authoritie of this acte ſuch preſenting, nominating or commending to the ſaide biſhop of Rome, or to the ſée of Rome, & ſuch bulles, brieues, palles, annates, firſt fruites, & euery other ſums of money heretofore limited, accuſtomed or vſed to be paied at the ſaid ſée of Rome, for procuration or expedition of any ſuch Bulles, brieues, or palles, or other thing concerning the ſame, ſhall vtterly ceaſe, and no longer be vſed within this realme or within any the Kings dominions, any thing conteyned in the ſaide Acte afore mentioned, or any vſe, cuſtome, or preſcription to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. Firſt fruits

And furthermore bee it ordeined and eſtabliſhed by the authoritie aforeſaid, that at euery ordinance of Archbiſhoprike or Biſhoprike within this Realme, or in any other the kings dominions, the King our ſouereigne lord, his heires and ſucceſſors may graunt the Priors and Couent, or the Deane & chapter of the Cathedrall churches or monaſteries, where the ſée of ſuch Archbiſhoprike or Biſhoprike ſhall happen to be voide, a licence vnder the greate ſeale, as of old time hath ben accuſtomed, to proceed to election of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the ſée ſo being void with a letter miſſiue, conteining the name of the perſon which they ſhall elect and chuſe: by vertue of which licence, the ſaide Deane & Chapter, or Priors & Couent, to whome any ſuch licence and letters miſſiues ſhal be directed, ſhall with all ſpeed and celeritie in due forme elect and chuſe the ſaide perſon named in the ſaide letters miſſiues to the dignity and office of the Archbiſhoprike ſo being void, and none other. And if they doe, or deferre, or delay their election aboue twelue dayes next after ſuch licẽce & letters miſſiues to them deliuered, that thẽ for euery ſuch default the kings highneſſe, his heires and ſucceſſours, at their libertie and pleaſure, ſhall nominate and preſent by their Letters Patents vnder their great ſeale, ſuch perſon to the ſayde office and dignitie, ſo being voide, as they ſhall thinke able and conuenient for the ſame. shal bee made to the Archbishop & Metropolitaine of the prouince where the sée of ỳ same Bishoprike is voide, if the sée of the Archbishop said Archbishop be then full and not void, and if it bee voide, then to be made to such Archbishop or metropolitane within this Realme, or in any the Kings dominions, as shall please the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successors. And if any such nomination or presentment shall happen to be made for default of such elections to the dignitie or office of any Archbishop, then the kings highnesse, his heires and successors, by his letters patẽts vnder his great seale shall nominate and present such person as they will depose to haue the said office and dignity of the Archbishoprike being void, to one such Archbishop, and two such Bishops, or els to foure such bishops in this realm, or in any the kings dominions, as shal be assigned by our said Soueraigne lord, his heires and successors. And be it enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that whensoeuer any such presentment or nomination shall bee made by the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successours, by vertue and authoritie of this acte, and according to the tenor of the same, that then euery Archbishop and Bishop, to whose hand anie such presentment and nomination shall bee directed, shall with all spéd and celeritie, inuest, and consecrate the person nominate and presented by the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successors, to the Office and dignitie that such person shall bee so presented vnto, and giue and vse to him palle and al other benedictions, ceremonies and things requisit for the same, without suing, procuring, or obteining hereafter anie Bulles or other things at the Sée of Rome, for anie such office or dignitie in any behalf. And if the said Deane & Chapter, or Prior & couent, after such lycence and letters missiue to them directed within the saide twelue dayes, doe elect and chuse the sayde person mentioned in the said letters missiues, according to the request of the Kings Highnesse, his heires and successours, thereof to be made by the letters missiues in that behalfe: Then their election shall stande good and effectuall to all intents, and that the person so elected after certification made of the same election vnder the common and couent seale of the electours, to the Kings Highnesse, his heires or successours, shall bee reputed and taken by the name of Lorde elected of the saide dignitie and office, that bee shall bee elected vnto. And then making such othe and fealtie onelie to the Kings Maiestie, his heires and successours, as shall be appointed for the same, the Kings Highnes by his Letters Patents vnder his great seale, shall signifie the said election, if it be to the dignitie of a Bishop, to the Archbishoppe and Metropolitane of the Prouince where the Sée of the saide Bishoprike was voyde, if the Sée of the sayde Archbishop be full and not voyde, and if it be void, then to an other Archbishop within this Realme, or in any other the kings dominions, requiring and commaunding such Archbishop, to whome any such signification shall bee made, to confirme the saide election, and to inuest and consecrate the saide person so elect to the Office and dignitie that hee is elected vnto, and to giue and vse to him all such benedictions, ceremonies and other things requisite for the same, without any suing, procuring and obteining any buls, letters or other thinges from the sée of Rome for the same in any behalfe. And if the person bee elected to the office & dignitie of an Archbishoppe, according to the tenour of this act then after such election certified to the kings Highnesse in forme aforesaide, the same person so elected to the Office & dignitie of an Archbishop, shall bee reputed and taken lorde elect to the saide Office and dignitie of Archbishop, whereunto he shall bee so elected. And then after hee hath made such othe and fealtie onelie to the Kings Maieste, his heires and successours, as shall bee limited for the same, the Kings Highnesse by his Letters Patents vnder his great seale, shall signifie the saide election to one Archbishop and two other Bishops, or else to foure Bishops within this Realme, or within any other the kings dominions to be assigned to the Kings highnesse, his heires or successours requiring and commaunding the said Archbishop & bishops with all speed & celeritie to confirme the saide election, and to inuest and consecrate the said person so elected to the office and dignitie that he is elected vnto, and to giue and vse to him such Pall, Benedictions, ceremonies, and all other things requisite for the same, without suing, procuring, or obteining any bulles, breues, or other things at the said sea of Rome, or by the authority therof in that behalfe. 4 ¶ Forasmuch as great care hath bin heretofore taken for maintenance of good strength and force vpon the borders and frontiers against Scotland, & to the ende that inhabitants & tenaunts there might be better able, & more encouraged for the defence of the same borders, when any occasion should be offered in that behalfe, all charges of Subsidies and tares haue bin borne, to be laid or charged vpon the saide inhabitants, & for like respect it hath beene heretofore also vsed in diuers places within the Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmerland, and the Bishoprike of Durham, that diuers, and a great parte of the inhabitants there, haue enioyed their tenements & Fermeholdes in diuers fauourable sortes & formes of tenure. And for that the Quenes Maiestie hath of late yeres beene oftentimes informed by report & certificat of her principal Officers hauing charge of her borders, that the force of her saide borders both of horsemen and footemen are greatly decayed, & likely daily to growe weaker by many occasions, & among other by decay and ruine of sundry ẏ habitations of those borders, whereby the number of the auncient Inhabitants able for seruice, haue bin diminished. & that part of the same habitations, Tenancies & fermes, haue been reduced rather to pasturing of cattel, then to the maintenance of men of seruice: And that also in some partes the Tenants and Inhabitäts themselues haue diminished their own strength, by diuiding their houses & Fermes, whith were meete only for one able houlholder and familie, into the occupation of sundrie persons commonly being their children or other kinsfolkes. So as by the smalnesse & meannesse of ẏ holding, no one of them is able to furnish a man for seruice: And that also diuers owners & tenants vpon the borders, haue for more gaine then they could haue of natural subiects, letten their lands or feedings, or some parte thereof to Scottishmen, thereby not onely weakening the strength of her Maiesties naturall subiects, but strengthening forreiners.

For remedie whereof, be it enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliamẽt, that the Quẽnes Maiestie shal and may from time to time, as neede shall require, by Commission vnder the great Seale of England, make and appoint such and so many Commissioners as to her Maiestie shal be thought conuenient, giuing vnto them or fiue of them (whereof two to be of the Quorum) full power and authoritie in all and euery of the saide Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmerland, and the Countie Palantine of Durham, or in any one of them, or in any parte of any of them, to inquire by the othes of twelue men or moe, or by other good meanes, according to their discretions, what tenancies and houses of habitations be since the seuen and twentieth yeere of King Henry the eight ruined and decayed, and not held or occupied by men able to serue as horsemen and footemen, according to the auncient dutie of those tenancies, and in like maner to examine and search out the iust or probable causes of those ruines & decayes, & of the wants & euil furnitures of the saide horsemen and footemen, and to giue order and direction for reformation thereof with all speede reasonable. And to that ende, if it shal appeare to the saide Commissioners or such fiue of them, as is aforesaid, that the fault of the saide ruines or decayes haue beene onely in the Lordes and owners, or their principall officers, or in the officers and Farmers of her Maiesties Mãcurs, Landes or Tenements, or any their assignes, then the saide Commissioners, or such fiue as is aforesaide, shall order, commaund and enioyne as well her Maiesties Officers, Farmers or their assignes, as others the Lordes and owners, and their Officers or farmers, to reedifie or repaire the same tenements and houses of habitation, and specially the capitall houses and Barnekins within a cõuenient time at their owne charges, with restoring like quantities of lands therunto, as with the same hath beene occupied in the saide twentie seuenth yeere of King Henry the eight, And shall set paines for euery default of such reedifying or restoring in reasonable time, not exceeding one hundreth Markes for euery such default: And if they shall finde default of furniture of the Tenants with horse, weapon or armour, according to their dueties, then they shall by perswasion in respect of the Quẽnes Maiesties seruice, & the defence of their native countrey, treat with such Lords and other whom it may concerne, & the Freeholders, Lessées or Tenants, for order to be taken by their mutuall assents for the renewing and continuance of the said seruice, and for want of reasonable conformitie on either part, may enioyne the said Lords and all others vnder them, and also all the Quẽnes Maiesties Officers, Farmers, and their assignes, to giue such help as the said Commissioners or such fiue as aforesaide shall thinke fit, toward the inabling of the saide Tenant or Tenants, to be furnished according to the auncient duetie of the said Tenemẽt, and to take order how the saide Tenant shall therby be furnished & be able for seruice, and so to see that the same bee duely executed, and the said Commissioner shall take bonds in good summes to her Maiesties vse, of euery such person of whome it shall bee requisite that the saide auncient duetie of such Tenementes respectiuely shall be furnished, kept and executed, on paine of reasonable forfaiture, not exceeding fortie pounds for euery default, and shall assesse fines, & set downe paines for such defaultes or wants of furniture, as shall in that behalfe be requisite. And if the vnablenes of the saide Tenants shall be founde to haue growen, or to growe hereafter by their own default or wilfulnesse, without iust occasiõ: The said Commissioners

2 ¶ An. 2. E. 6. capitulo primo, was an act made that the seruice and sacraments should be in English according to a booke thereof made. And diuers things bee in that acte concerning those matters. And after An. 5. Ed. 6. cap. 1. it appeareth that the saide English booke was altered and changed in diuers things, and that thereunto was added a forme of making and cõsecrating of Bishops and Priests. And in the same act of Anno 5. Ed. 6. cap. 1. It was enacted to compell people to come to the Church to the English seruice, and punishment appoynted for them that should bee present at any other seruice, as followeth here 3.

3 ¶ Be it enacted by the king our soueraigne Lord, with the assent of the Lords & Commons in this present Parliament assembled, & by the authority of the same, that from & after the feast of all Saintes next comming, all and euery person & persons, inhabiting within this realm, or any other ỳ kings Maiesties dominions, shall diligently and faithfully, hauing no lawfull or reasonable excuse to bee absent, endeuour themselues to resort to their Parish church or chappell accustomed, or vpon reasonable let therof, to some vsuall place where common praier and such seruice of God shalbe vsed in such time of let, vpon euery Sunday, & other dayes ordayned & vsed to be kept as holy dayes, & then there to abide orderly and soberly during the time of the Common prayer, preachings, or other seruice of God, there to bee vsed and ministred, vpon paine of punishment by the censures of the Church.

And for the due executiõ hereof, ỳ kings most excellent maiesty, the Lords temporal, & all the Cõmons in this present parliament assẽbled, doth in Gods name earnestly require and charge all the Archbishops, bishops & other ordinaries, ỳ they shal endeuour themselues to ỳ vttermost of their knowledge, that the due and true execution hereof may bee had throughout their Dioceses and charges, as they will aunswere before God, for such euils and plagues wherewith almighty God maie iustely punish his people for neglecting this good & wholesome lawe. And for their authority in this behalf, be it further likewise enacted by the authority aforesayde, that all & singuler the same Archbishops, bishops, & all other their Officers, exercising Ecclesiasticall iurisdiction, aswell in places exempt as not exempt within their Dioceses shal haue ful power & authoritie by this act, to reforme, correct & punish by the censures of the Church, all & singuler persons, which shal offend within any their iurisdictions or Dioceses, after the saide feast of all Saintes next comming against this act & statute, any other Law, Statute, Priuiledge, Libertie or Prouision heretofore made, had, or suffered, to the contrary notwithstanding. And because there hath arisen in the vse & exercise of the foresaide common seruice in the church heretofore set forth, diuers doubts for the fashion and maner of the ministration of the same, rather by the curiosity of the Minister, and mistakers, then of anie other worthie cause: Therefore aswel for the more plaine and manifest explanation hereof, as for the more perfection of the saide order of Common Seruice in some places where it is necessarie to make the same prayer and fashion of Seruice more earnest & fitte to stirre Christian people to the true honoring of Almighty God: The kings most excellent Maiestie, with the assent of the Lords and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, & by the authoritie of the same, hath caused the foresaide order of Common Seruice, entituled The booke of Common prayer, to be faithfully & godly perused, explaned and made fully perfect, and by the aforesaid authoritie, hath annexed and ioyned it so explaned and perfected to this present Statute, adding also a forme and manner of making & consecrating of Archbishops, Bishops, Priests, and Deacons to bee of like force, authority and value as the same like aforesaide booke, intituled the booke of common prayer was before, and to bee accepted, receiued, vsed, and esteemed, in like sort and manner, and with the same clauses of prouisions, and exceptions to all intents, constructions and purposes, as by the Acte of Parlyament made in the seconde yeere of the kings Maiesties raigne, was ordayned, limited, expressed, and

And by the authority aforesaid it is now further enacted, that if any manner of person or persons, inhabiting & being within this Realme, or any other the kings maiesties dominions, shal after the said feast of all Saints, willingly and wittinglie, heare and be present at any other manner or forme of Common prayer, of administration of the Sacraments, of making of Ministers in the Church, or of any other rites contained in the booke annexed to this Act, then is mentiond and set forth in the said booke, or that is contrary to the forme of sundry prouisions and exceptions contained in the foresaide former statute, and shall be thereof conuicted, according to the lawes of this Realme before the Iustices of Assise, Iustices of oyer and determiner, Iustices of Peace in their Sessions, or any of them by the verdict of twelue men, or by his or their owne confession or otherwise, shall for the first offence suffer imprisonment for sixe moneths, wout bail or mainprise, & for the second offence, being likewise conuicted, as is abouesaid, imprisonment for one halfe yere, and for the third offence in like maner, imprisonment during his or their liues. And for the more knowledge to be giuen hereof. and better obseruation of this lawe: Bee it enacted by authoritie aforesaid, that all & singuler Curates shall vpon one Sunday euery quarter of the yere, during one whole yere next following the foresaide feast of all Saints next comming, reade this present Acte in the Church, at the time of the most assembly, and likewise once in euery yeere following at the same time, declaring vnto the people, by the authority of the Scripture how the mercy and goodnesse of God hath in all ages bene shewed to his people, in their necessities & extremities, by meanes of harty and faithfull prayers made to almighty God, especially where people bee gathered together with one faith & mind, to offer vp their hearts by prayers, as the best Sacrifices that Christian men can yeeld. In case also where one giueth land to another, and to the heirs of his body issuing, it seemeth very harde, and it seemeth vnto the giuers and their heires, that their will being expressed in the gift, was not heretofore, nor yet is obserued. In all the cases aforesaid, after issue begottē & borne bet wéene them (to whom the lands were giuen vnder such conditiō) heretofore such feffées had power to alien the lande so giuen, and to disherite their issue contrarie to the minds of the giuers, and contrarie to the forme expressed in the gift. And further, where the issue of such feffée is failing, the land so giuen ought to returne to the giuer or his heire, by forme of the gift expressed in the déed, though the issue (if any were) had died: yet by the déed and feoffement of them, (to whom land was so giuen vpon condition) the donors haue heretofore bene barred of their reuersion, which was directly repugnāt to the forme of the gift: wherefore our soueraigne lord the King, perceiuing how necessary and expedient it should be to prouide remedie in the aforesaid cases, hath ordained, that the will of the giuer, according vnto the forme in ỳ déed of gift manifestly expressed, shall be from henceforth obserued, so that they, to whom the land was giuē vnder such condition, shall haue no power to alien the land so giuē, but it shal remaine vnto their issue after the death, or shal reuert vnto the giuer or his heires (if issue faile) where as there is no issue at all, or if any issue be, and faile by death, or heire of the body of such issue failing: Neither shal the second husbād of any such woman, frō henceforth haue any thing in the land so giuen vpon cōdition after the death of his wife by the law of England, nor the issue of the second husband & wife shall succéed in the inheritance, but immediatly after the death of the husband & wife (to whom the land was so giuen) it shall returne to their issue, or to the giuer, or his heire, as before is said. And forasmuch as in a new case new remedie must be prouided, this maner of writ shal be granted to the partie that will purchase it.

It is to bee understood that the cases aboue rehearsed, ought to bee iudged treason which extendeth to our Soueraigne Lord the king, & his royall Maiestie. And of such Treason the forfeiture of the escheats perteineth to our soueraigne lord, as well of the landes and tenements holden of other as of himselfe. And moreouer there is another maner of treason, that is to say, when a seruant slaieth his master, or a wife her husband, or when a man secular or Religious slayeth his prelate to whom he oweth faith and obedience. And of such treason the escheats ought to perteine to euery Lorde of his owne fée. And because ỳ many other like cases of treason may happen in time to come, which a man cannot thinke nor declare at this present time: It is accorded, that if any other case supposed treason, which is not aboue specified, doe happen before any Justices, the Justices shal tary without any going to iudgement of the treason, til the cale be shewed & declared before the king and his Parliament, whether it ought to be iudged treason or felony. And if percase any man of this realm ride armed couertly or secretly with men of armes against any other to slay him or rob him, or to take him or kéepe, til he hath made fine or ransome for to haue his deliuerance, it is not the minde of the king nor his Councill, that in such case it shal be iudged treason, but shall be iudged felonie or trespas according to the Lawes of the lande of olde time vsed, and according as the case requireth.

And if in such case or other like before this time any Justices haue iudged treason, and for this cause the lands and tenemẽts haue commen into the kings hands as forfeit, the chiefe Lordes of the fée shall haue the escheats of ỳ tenements holden of them, whether that the same tenemẽts be in the kings hands or in others, by gift or in other manner. Sauing alwaies to our soueraigne lord the king, the yere and ỳ waste, & the forfeitures of cattels, which perteine to him in the cases aboue named. And that writs of Scire facias bee granted in such case against the lãdtenants without other originall, & without allowing any protection in the said sute. And that of the landes which be in the Kings hands, writtes be granted to the Shirifes of the Counties where the lands be, to set them out of the kings hands without other delay. Anno 25. ¶ Voucher.

IT is prouided, that none being vouched to warrãty before our Iusticers, in plea Warranty

Amerced of land or tenements, shall bee amerced from henceforth, because he was not present when he was vouched to warranty, except the first day of the comming of the Justicers. But if the party vouched bee Shirife within the shire, then the shirife shall bee commanded to cause him to come within the third or fourth day, according to the distance of the place, as it was wont to be done in the circuit of ỹ Justicers. And if he dwel without the shire, then he shall Summons haue reasonable sũmons of fifténe daies at the least, after the discretion of the Justicers, and the common law. Marle. cap. 26. An. 52. H. 3.

2 ¶ Forasmuch as many people are delayed of their right by false vouching to Mortdaun- warranty, It is prouided, that in writs of cestour possession, first of al in a writ of Mortdaũcestour, of cosinage, of aiel, Nuper obijt, of Cosinage Aiel intrusiõ, & other like writs, wherby lands or tenements are demanded which ought Nuper obijt to discend, reuert, remaine or eschete by ỹ death of any ancestor, or otherwise, if the Intrusion tenant vouch to warranty, & the demandant counterpleadeth him, and wil auerre by assise, & by the countrey, or otherwise, as the court wil award, that ỹ tenant or his ancestour (whose heire he is) was the first that entred after the death of him of Auerment whose seison he demaundeth: The auerrement of the demaundant shalbe receiued, if the tenant will abide thereupon, and if not, he shal bee further compelled to an other answere, if he haue not his warrantour present, that wil warrant him freely and incontinent entrie into the warrãty. Sauing vnto the demaundant his exceptions against him, if he will vouch further, as he had before against the first tenant. From henceforth in al maner of writtes of entry, which make mention of degrées, Line none shal vouch out of the line, or in other writs of entrie, where no mẽtion is made of degrées, which writtes shall not bee maintained but in cases where the other writs of degrées cãnot lie nor hold place. Right And in a writ of right, if is prouided, that if the tenant vouch to warranty, & the demandant will counterplead him, & be ready to auerre by the countrey, that he that is vouched, nor his auncestors, had neuer seison of the land or tenement demanded, fée or seruice by the handes of the tenaunt or his ancestors, since the time of him, on whose seison the demaundant declareth, vntill the time that the writ was purchased, & the plea mooued, whereby he might haue infeoffed ỹ tenant or his auncestors: Then let the auerment of the demandant be receiued, if the tenant will abide thereupon, and if not, the tenant shalbe further compelled vnto an other answere, if he be not present that will warrant him freely and not incontinẽt entry in answere. Sauing vnto the demandant his exceptiõs against him, as hee had afore against ỹ first tenant. And the said exception shall haue Exception place in a writ of Mortdauncestour, & in other writtes before named, as wel as in writs that concerne right.

And if percase the tenant haue a déede that cõpriseth warranty of an other man, which is bounde in any of these cases before mentioned to the warranty of his elder degrée, his recouery by a writ of warranty of charters out of the kings Chancery shalbe saued to him, at what time soeuer he will purchase it, howbeit the plea shal not be delayed therefore. W. 1. ca. 39. An. 3. Ed. 1.

3 ¶ If a man bee impleaded for land in the same Citie, & doth vouch a forraine Citie to warrãtie, he shal come into the Chan- Forreine cery, and haue a writ to summon his war- Chancery rantour at a certaine daye before the Ju- Summon stices of the bench, and an other writte to Maior the Maior and baylifes, that they shal sur- Bailifes cease in the matter that is before them by writ, vntil the cause of the warranty bee determined before the Justices of the bench, then shall hee that is vouched bee London commaunded to goe into London to answere vnto the chiefe plea. And a writte shall bee awarded for the demaundant by the Justicers vnto the Maior and bailifs, that they shall proceéde in the plea. And if the demandãt recouer against the tenant, the tenant shal come before ỹ Justicers of the bench, which shall direct a writ to the Maior and bailifs, that if the tenant haue lost his land, thy shal cause ỹ land to be extended, & valued, and shall returne the extent at a certaine day into the bench, & after it shalbe cõmanded to the shirife of the Shirife shire (where the warrantée was summoned) that he shal cause the patty that doth vouch, to haue as much of the land of the warrantor in value as he lost. Glouc. cap. 12. Anno 6. E. 1.

4 ¶ When any demaundeth lande against another, & the party that is impleaded, voucheth to warrantie, & the warrãtour denieth his warrantie, and the plea hangeth long betwéene the tenant & the warrãtor: And at length when it is tried, Warrantis

¶ Where in the 37. yeere of the raigne of the late King Henrie the eight (before 6.) amongst other actes and sta- tutes then made, it was enacted by au- thoritie of parliament, that no person or persons at anie time after the last day of Ianuary, in the said 37. yere, should haue, receiue, accept, or take in lucre, or gains, for the loane, forbearing, or giuing day of payment of anie summe of money, for one whole yeere, aboue the summe of tenne pound in the hundred, and so after that rate, and not aboue, of, and for a more, or lesse summe, or for longer or shorter time, vpon the paines and forfaitures in the saide acte mentioned and contained. The which act was not meant or intended for the maintenance and allowance of vsu- rie, as diuers persons, blinded with inor- dinate loue of themselues, haue and yet doe mistake the same, but rather was made and intended against all sortes and kindes of vsurie, as a thing vnlawfull, as by the title and preamble of the said act it doth plainly appeare. And yet neuerthe- lesse the same was by the said act permit- ted, for the auoiding of a more euil and in- conuenience, that before that time was v- sed and exercised. But forasmuch as vsury is by the word of God vtterly prohibited, as a vice most odious and detestable, as in diuers places of the holie Scripture it is euident to be seen, which thing by no godlie teachings and perswasions can sinke into the hearts of diuers greedie, vncha- ritable, and couetous persons of this Realme, nor yet by anie terrible threat- nings of Gods wrath and vengeãce, that iustlie hangeth ouer this realme, for the great and open vsurie therein dailie vsed and practised, they will forsake such filthy gaine and lucre, vnlesse some temporall punishment bee prouided and ordained in that behalfe. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the authoritie of this pre- sent Parliament, that from the first day of May, which shall be in the yeere of our Lorde GOD, a thousand fiue hundred fiftie and two, the saide Acte and Sta- tute, concerning onelie vsurie, lucre, or gaines of or for the loane, forbearing, or giuing of daies of anie summe or summes of money, be vtterly abrogated, void, and repealed.

The moitie of which forfaiture of the said value, shall be to the king, and the other moitie to the partie that wil sue for ẏ same in anie of the kings courts of record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no wager of lawe, essoine, or protection shall be allowed or admitted. Graund distresse

7 ¶ In the common plea for wardship, if the defoorceours come not at ẏ great distresse, then the said writ shalbe renewed twise or thrise at such termes as it may be don within the half yere following, so that euery time the writ be read in the open countie (if ẏ defoorceour be not found before) and there bee openly proclaimed that he come at the day limitted: and if he absent himselfe then, so that he come not to answere within the said halfe yere, nor the shirife can finde him, by which he cannot haue his body before our Justices, to aunswere according to the law & custome of the realme: then as a rebel, & such a one as wil not be iustified, be shal lese the seising of the ward: sauing to him his action at another time, if perhaps he haue any right to ẏ same. But in such cases, where wardships belong to ẏ keepers of wardes being within age, and where keepers demaund a wardship, which belongeth to ẏ heire, or as appertaining to their inheritance: such heires within age shall not lese their inheritance by the negligence or rebellion of their keepers, as in ẏ case afore rehearsed, but let the common lawe runne in like maner as it hath bēn accustomed to do. 8 ¶ It is prouided, that if lande holden in socage be in the custody of the kinsfolke of the heire, because ẏ heire is within age, the keepers shall make no waste nor sale, nor any destruction of the same inheritance, but safely shall kepe it to the vse of the saide heire, so that when he commeth to his lawful age, they shal answer to him for the issues of the saide inheritance by a lawful accompt, sauing to ẏ same keepers their reasonable costes. Neither shall the said keepers giue or sell ẏ mariage of such an heire, but to the aduantage of the foresaid heire. But the next kinsfolke which had the ward (for all that time that writs of vnpleading do not lie) shall haue such wardship vnto ẏ aduantage of ẏ heire, as is said before, without waste, sale, or destructiō making. 10 ¶ Of heires married within age, without the consent of the keepers, afore that they be full the age of 14. yeeres, it shalbe done according as it is contained in the statute of Merton. And of them which shalbee married without the consent of their keepers, after they be full ỳ age of 14. yeres, the keeper shall haue the double value of their marriage after the tenor of the same acte. Moreouer such as haue withdrawen the marriage, shal pay the full value thereof vnto the keeper for the trespasse, & neuertheless the king shal haue his amends according to the same act, of him that hath so withdrawē it. And of heires females after they haue accomplished the age of 14. yeres, & the lord (to whom the marriage belongeth) will not marry them, but for couetousnes of ỳ land will keepe them vnmarried: It is prouided, that the Lord shal not haue nor keepe by reason of marriage, the landes of such heires females more then two yeeres after the terme of the said 14. yeres. And if the lord within the said two yeres do not marrie them, then shall they haue an actiō to recouer their inheritance quite without giuing any thing for their wardship or their marriage. And if they of malice, or by ill counsell will not bee married by their chiefe lords (where they shal not bee disparaged) then their lordes may holde their land & inheritance, vntill they haue accomplished the age of an heire male, that is to wit, xxi. yeres, and further, vntil they haue taken the value of the marriage. 13 Our Soueraigne Lord the king shal haue the ward of all the lands of such as hold of him in chief by knights seruice, whereof the tenants were seised in their demesne as of fee, at the day of their death (of whomsoeuer they hold els by like seruice, so that they held of ancient time any land of the Crowne) vntill the heire come to his lawfull age, except the fees of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Durham, betwéene Tine & Tese, fines of Earles & Barons in the Marches, where the kings writs do not lie, & whereof the said Archbishops, Bishops, Earles, & Barons, ought to haue such wardes, though they held of the King in some other place, Prærog. 14 Also the king shall haue the marriage of an heire being within age, and in his ward, whether the lands of such heirs haue appertained to the Crowne of auncient continuance, or that it came by reason of escheat, being in the kings handes, or that he had the marriage by reason of the ward of the lords of such heires, without any respect to the priorities of feoffement, albeit they held of other. Prærog. Regis ca. 2. An. 17. E. 2.

15 If any woman (before the death of her ancestour that helde of the King in chiefe) be married before shée be mariageable, then the king shal haue the warde of the body of the same woman, vntil shée be of age to consent, & then shée may choose whether she wil haue him to whome shee was first married, or him that the king will offer her. 16 It is to wit, that where any relieke is giuen, there wardship is incidēt & contrariwise. And such as hold by sergeantie to go with the king in his host, there ward & relieke are incident. And such as hold by petit sergeantie, as to beare shield or speare in the kings hoste, to beare or to carry, there lyeth neither warde, marriage nor relieke. Also a frée tokeman shall not giue ward nor relief, but he shal double his rent after the death of his auncestour, according as he hath vsed to pay, & shal not be vnmeasurably grieued. Now somwhat is to be said of the nature of hauing wards. There be two manner of writs to haue wards, one is where lands be holden in knights seruice, the other is where lāds be holdē in socage. The ward of land ẏ is holden in knights seruice, belongeth to ẏ chief Lord, & mariage, which ought to be without disparagement, as ẏ great chartour limitteth vntil he cōmeth to the age of xxi. yeres. The warde of an heire that holdeth in socage, if the inheritance discend of his mothers side, then it belongeth to the nert friend of the fathers side, and contrariwise. And a Writ to recouer ward, may be brought in three maners: one is whē a man demandeth ward of the land & of ẏ heire, & ẏ is in case when a man holdeth land of another by knights seruice, & ẏ tenant dieth, then may ẏ chief lord (if he be deforced) demaund the ward of his land & heire, & shal haue both warde & marriage. Another manner is when a man is infeoffed of a rod of lande by one man, & by another, of another rod, the second Lord may not bring a writ of ward to recouer either ỳ land or the heire, for ỳ ward belongeth to the Lord, of whom he was first infeoffed. The third maner is, where a man hath land in his handes by reason of a ward, & hath not ỳ heire, then he may bring a writ to demaund ỳ heire & not the land, An.28.E.1.stat.of Wardes.

Thiefe Eschetors

And hastily after the diem clausit extremum, deliuered to him, to returne the same by a good & true extent in the Chancery: after which returne, if it be found that the heire is within age, & the next friends of ỳ heire to whom the inheritance cannot discend, shal come & offer them to take ỳ said lãds, yælding the value to the king, till the age of ỳ heire, as far forth as other will yæld without fraud by accord betwixt ỳ chancellor & the treasurer, they shal haue commission to kæpe the said lands by good & sufficient surety, till the age of the saide heires, & to answer the king of the value. And it is not the kings intent, that by this statute he be forclosed to haue an action of waste against such gardians & fermers, as he & his auncestors haue had before this time: And that the heires when they come to their age, shal haue their action by writ of waste against such gardians & fermers.
